Real Estate, Land Use and Business Transactions

Cliff McKinney is a transactional attorney at Quattlebaum, Grooms & Tull PLLC. His primary practice is real estate law and business and regulatory matters related to real estate. A Fellow of the American College of Real Estate Lawyers and a Fellow of the American College of Mortgage Attorneys, Mr. McKinney is listed with The Best Lawyers in America® in the areas of Real Estate Law and Land Use and Zoning Law, is recognized by Chambers USA's Guide to America's Leading Lawyers for Business as Band 1 in the area of Real Estate and selected as a Mid-South Super Lawyer in the area of Real Estate by Super Lawyers. He was named the Little Rock Lawyer of the Year – Land Use and Zoning Law by Best Lawyers® in 2020 and 2022 and is rated AV Preeminent® by Martindale-Hubbell. Mr. McKinney has served as lead counsel on dozens of multi-million dollar transactions throughout the mid-South region. He also represents restaurant owners, including franchisees of national chains.

As part of his real estate practice, Mr. McKinney assists clients with financing, business organization, environmental, and land use issues. He assists clients through the regulatory process, including obtaining zoning changes and other governmental approvals. He has extensive experience assisting clients in obtaining appropriate business licenses and approvals, such as alcohol permits and franchise agreements. He also assists clients with permitting issues related to the Clean Water Act (e.g., U.S. Army Corps of Engineers 404 permits), the National Historic Preservation Act (e.g., Section 106 compliance), and the National Flood Insurance Act (e.g., letters of map revision).

Mr. McKinney also has experience dealing with real estate-related litigation matters, including adverse possession, boundary by acquiescence, prescriptive easements, quiet title, eviction, foreclosure, and restrictive covenant disputes, among others, as well as providing expert witness testimony on real estate issues. Mr. McKinney has also been active in the legislative process, including serving on the Arkansas Bar Association's Jurisprudence and Law Reform and Legislation Committees. He has testified before the Arkansas General Assembly on many occasions and been involved in drafting and vetting real estate-related legislation.

Mr. McKinney serves as Chair of the Real Estate Law Section of the Arkansas Bar Association, a position he has held many times. Mr. McKinney was the first attorney in the State of Arkansas to obtain the status of LEED® Accredited Professional, which affords him the unique ability to assist clients with environmentally-friendly green building projects. Mr. McKinney served as the U.S. Green Building Council Arkansas Chapter's Secretary and Treasurer and served on the Arkansas General Assembly's Legislative Task Force on Sustainable Building Design and Practices.

Additionally, Mr. McKinney serves as a Commissioner to the Uniform Law Commission and holds multiple positions within the Commission. He is a Division Chair and a member of the Legislative Council. He also represents the Uniform Law Commission as a member of the Joint Editorial Board for Uniform Real Property Acts.

Mr. McKinney is also involved in the academic side of real estate law. Mr. McKinney is an Adjunct Professor at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock William H. Bowen School of Law where he teaches Real Estate Finance and Real Estate Transaction Skills. He has written a number of law review articles on real estate topics, including implied covenants, deed drafting, boundary by acquiescence, adverse possession, dower & curtesy, and landlord/tenant rights. He also currently chairs the editorial committee for Standards for Examination of Real Estate Titles in Arkansas and has authored the Arkansas chapter for an American Bar Association book on institutional land use controls.

Mr. McKinney attended the University of Arkansas where he obtained his Juris Doctor (cum laude) and Master of Public Administration degrees. His focus on real estate began while he was a student at Southern Methodist University earning a Master of Laws degree emphasizing real estate. Prior to law school, Mr. McKinney was a National Merit Scholar at Baylor University. He is licensed to practice law in Arkansas (2002, highest score), Mississippi, Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee, and Texas, and he uses his licenses and experience in these states to assist clients in cross-border transactions.

Mr. McKinney is active in his community, currently serving as the President of the Access to Justice Foundation Board, President of the Salvation Army Central Arkansas Command Advisory Board, and Vice President of the Arkansas Foodbank. He previously served as President of the Habitat for Humanity of Central Arkansas Board, Chair of the Arkansas Rice Depot Board, and Chair of the Arkansas Bar Association Board of Governors. He has twice been appointed as a Special Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Arkansas and currently serves on the Arkansas Bar Association's Board of Trustees.
